
Q. First of all, talk about you did a Monday qualifier to get here, so talk about coming that route. You've done a couple Monday qualifiers. Nice to jump in and play well?

AARON BADDELEY: Yeah, with my past champion status, not really getting in much this fall. Just, yeah, wanted to make sure I could be here this week, so went down on Monday and got in, I birdied the first hole to get into the playoff. Game's been feeling pretty good, so it was fun to play well these first two days. Reason to keep it going the next couple.

Q. All your mates appeared to have got the better end of the draw. Always nice to get that?

AARON BADDELEY: Yeah, exactly, for sure. Looks like some rain's coming in. There's some weeks you're on the wrong side, some weeks you're on the right side. Sometimes it's nice to be on the right side.

Q. Talk about where you are in your career at your age and your status. What's going good for you right now in your game?

AARON BADDELEY: I feel like -- I started working with Mike Adams about a year ago, last October maybe started together. It's been -- he's just really simplified my swing. For the majority of my career that's been the battle and I'd say this summer I hit the ball consistently, probably the most consistent I've ever done in my career and just didn't make enough putts. Feel like everything -- got the putting figured out again now and just sort of feel like everything's sort of turning the corner. Feel like the confidence is back, just a matter of just getting some starts and go out and play. So it's been great, Mike's really been a huge help.

Q. I would imagine given the rain, more rain, you know, put the pedal to the metal and just go?

AARON BADDELEY: Yeah, exactly. I was thinking that today. I mean even on the back nine there I hit some really nice shots in there close, but just burnt the edges coming in. So would have liked a couple more, but still was a good day. With the golf course, depending on how the wind blows, when there's not too much wind you've got to make birdies. When there's wind, it shows some good scores but it's a little more difficult.
