

ROUND 2 QUICK QUOTES
November 14, 2025

ZAC BLAIR (-7)

Q. Zac, talk about that round. It's pretty impressive after the first round even par where you were sitting in the 40s and now you're right in the mix.

ZAC BLAIR: Yeah, when we got done yesterday I didn't feel terrible with the even. I was a few under with a few to play and kind of stumbled a little coming in. Obviously played really good today. Just kind of hit a bunch of greens and made a few putts, which was nice.

Q. You came in here at I think 170 in the FedExCup Fall standings. What sort of mindset or attitude did you have coming into this week with only two tournaments to go?

ZAC BLAIR: I feel like I've been playing pretty solid, just kind of got to put four rounds together. Two weeks left to kind of go to try and do that. Didn't have the best round yesterday score-wise but played pretty well and played good today. Just kind of same stuff, just trying to play good golf, see what happens. You never know if you get hot one week and finish off the year pretty nice.

Q. Even with a top finish, not so much a win, but did you have an idea of what number you wanted to get to, like the 125 or the 150, because they all make a difference obviously?

ZAC BLAIR: Yeah, yeah, next year is obviously kind of a full new situation with how it's all set up with only 100 guys get their card but 125 have conditional, but all the way to 150 kind of have conditional sounded like. Just trying to play good and see where it shakes out at the end.

Q. Can you talk about your birdie on 13? Some sort of fairway wood off the tee maybe?

ZAC BLAIR: Yeah, 7-wood to 15 feet, made the putt, which was nice. Played the par 3s really good today, which obviously helps.

Q. Do you feel like you're like a poster boy right now for the FedExCup Fall and the way things are structured and the opportunities that are there for guys in that position?

ZAC BLAIR: Yeah. I mean, I feel like every year you see somebody have a win or a big week that is kind of in that 170 to 200 range. So everyone's really good and everyone obviously has the ability to play well enough to win. Hopefully, can go out and do that.
